HOW DARE YOU RICK WARREN

You people clearly don't know ANYTHING about the environment we live in. The ocean view you're giving to an unsafe lithium battery storage facility? What is wrong with you? I fish in the ocean down the street and live right over the hill in Laguna Niguel where I have finally found peace and I'm about to start a family. I shop only at the Ecology Lab and you want to take our fresh grown food too. Idiots! You need Jesus but clearly you think you can buy Jesus because before saddleback church there was an old monastery. You have an opportunity to do something great.. go to a place that makes sense like the desert where there are no people no food and no families. We will not move from a place that we have fought off so many people like you before. Where is Rick Warren on this. Did he coward up north and sell his soul? Guess what, we wont. You cant scare us out of our beautiful homes. Do not underestimate the people that live in our gated communities and the people that grew up here who would do anything to stop you because of our love for our community, our ocean and our farming. What are you thinking?? Your company looks laughably stupid to ruin this area. If you grew up here and learned to surf, swim and fish in our oceans you would do everything to fight this and oh what a fight you will get. Im unsure how you sleep at night but hell has a special place for people that pray on young families and the "small" people. I will pray to GOD that he allows your souls to wale up.
