GO TO THE DESERT

Nobody wants this here. If you cared about people rather than your pocket books youâ€™d leave our beach city alone. People go to AA there, get married and it is a historical site due to the history and monastery that is still there. It has an ocean view of the harbor we fish at and if you knew anything about living here youâ€™d know the Santa Ana winds will spread toxic fumes all over Dana Point, San Clemente and Monarch Beach. You are using us like mice in an experiment to see WHEN something goes wrong, how long will it last, how toxic it will be for us, how many lawsuits will you have, and so on. Don't insult our intelligence just put it in the desert where you wont gather data of how many people this will effect to make lithium less toxic and more efficient. YOU CANT.
