We oppose the dangerous lithium battery storage proposed close to our residences

Please protect our homes, schools, transportation corridors and environment by stopping the proposed build of a lithium battery storage facility in San Juan Capistrano/Laguna Niguel. Recent fire events in Northern California should be enough to convince any thinking person that these facilities pose an extreme risk to highly populated residential areas. California has thousands of acres of unpopulated desert area that could be used for this purpose, greatly lessening the exposure to catastrophe.
