No to the Redondo Power Plant

As a resident of Redondo Beach and a mother I feel very strongly against the power plant. In today's society there are alternatives to waste producing plants that will not damage our local air. Solar panels or an off shore wind farm could be placed. These are renewable resources without the devastating affects of the power plant planned. Yes they are planning on consolidating the plant but that will only be beneficial in terms of appearance since the plan would be to run the new power plant at full potential, it will be producing more harmful chemicals into the air my children are breathing than the current power plant. I ask the city to please consider the harmful affects caused by the power plant and the green alternatives when making their decision. No to the Power Plant.
