Opposed to the new plant!

As a 47-year old native to Hermosa Beach, I am opposed to the building of the new refinery.

I also just read the informational email you sent to me that states:

"...The new 496-megawatt facility would replace the existing Redondo Beach Generating Station, which relies on 1950's technology, with a modern, more efficient plant that would utilize about 25% of the existing power plant site. The proposed project would use dry-cooling to reduce water use and comply with the State Water Resources Control Board's policy eliminating the use of ocean water for power plant cooling."

If the new plant doesn't even need ocean water for cooling, why in the heck would you rebuild it in this beautiful, HEALTHY community, on oceanfront land??? That land could be put to much better use for housing, mixed-retail, a wonderful park for the residents, or something else that we need here. The refinery has been an eyesore since i was born and it's time to get rid of it and make that large parcel of land a beautiful new "something"!!!

Please don't build this plant!!!
