No new Power Plant

I strongly appose the building of a new power plant in our area. I have been a resident of Redondo beach for over 20 years and this is not the area for a new plant. My boyfriend is recovering from cancer and lives on his boat so not only would a new plant be of noise concern but definitely a health concern, so much so it may prompt us to move out of the area completely. We have a lovely community the way it is, I think the last one left along our coast line, lets not ruin it.
