New AES plant will poison us

By their own submitted metrics, a new AES plant will poison its tens of thousands of close neighbors with tons of gaseous emissions and dangerous particulate. They are proposing to build this in the center of one of the most densely-populated areas of California. There are many schools downwind from the proposed plant, and this will poison thousands of our children, and cause them lifelong health problems. We do not want this plant built here, and it is not needed for grid reliability. Our City Council has voted unanimously, multiple times, to oppose the building of this new plant. As residents of Redondo Beach, we demand a needs analysis to be initiated by the Commission, for this unwanted and unneeded polluting industrial use of our waterfront and community.
