Project Location: City of Hayward, Alameda County

Project Description: The Russell City Energy Center is a 600-megawatt natural gas-fired combined cycle facility that was certified by the California Energy Commission in its Decision on September 11, 2002, and began commercial operation on August 8, 2013.

Modification Description: The modification would amend Visual Resources condition of certification VIS-10 which would approve a revised offsite visual enhancement plan.

On May 17, 2016, the California Energy Commission approved the above-described project change pursuant to a regulatory program certified by the California Secretary of Resources under Section 21080.5 of the California Public Resources Code.

1. The project will not have a significant effect on the environment.
2. Mitigation measures were made a condition of approval of the project.
3. A statement of Overriding Considerations was not adopted for the project.

The Commission's docket files containing the final Energy Commission Decision and other information regarding the project are available to the public at: California Energy Commission, 1516 9th Street, Sacramento, California, 95814. The final Decision and other information regarding the project are also available on the Energy Commission's project website at: http://www.energy.ca.gov/sitingcases/russellcity_amendment/index.html
