In Support to Reopen Aliso Canyon Facility

Aliso Canyon facility is the second largest storage in the Western United States, and it is in need for it to be back to full operation before the winter in order to service the families in LA and OC with their winter heating demands .

Reopen the Aliso Canyon will also help the families to use such energy in affordable pricing without additional or possible pricing increasing.

So.Cal Gas has new prevention plans and more strict safety measuer since the incendent, based on the new research and syudies, I believe it is time to reopen the Aliso Canyon facility and have it back to operation .

Thank you for your consideration.
