Fighting for my daughters life

We live in Winnetka 4.1 miles from porter ranch where the gas leak was. The gas company was relocating people within a 5 mile radius of the leak however deemed us denied as we were not in their zip code. I even sent a mapquest showing we were under the 5 mile radius. My youngest son was experiencing heavy and sever nose bleeds. He was checked by the doctors and told his blood clotting factors were low and wanted him rechecked it was at this time our pediatrician write a letter to the gas company asking them to relocate us. Again met with another denial. Now we are at children's hospital with my daughter who was just diagnosed with aplastic anemia. Interestingly one of the causes of the condition is exposure to benzene. My daughter almost died and yet the gas company refused to move us. I'm on my 2nd week as well as my partner missing work while I watch my daughter experience bone marrow transplants. Transfusions and treatment to surpress her immune system. No one should have to watch their child suffer like my partner and I are. This gas company was being cheap and not keeping people and kids safe. They should be responsible for all of it not to mention never open back up there again
