Low income residents affected

As a person who has worked for over two decades to create fair conditions for low income residents, I am gravely concerned about the implications related to not re-opening the Aliso Canyon field. The loss of Aliso Canyon and the resources it contains will surely raise rates. Low income individuals and families already struggle to afford the high cost of living in the area. I absolutely support a safe and viable field for gas wells and want to see it safely operated. However, low income residents stand to be adversely affected if the field isn't returned to service.
