NOTICE OF RECEIPT
FACILITY CLOSURE PLAN FOR OAKLEY GENERATING STATION
(09-AFC-04C)

On July 18, 2018, the Contra Costa Generating Station, LLC, the owner of Oakley Generating Station (OGS) filed a petition with the California Energy Commission (Energy Commission) requesting permanent closure of the facility (TN 224258).

OGS is a 624-megawatt combined cycle facility located in the city of Oakley in Contra Costa County, California. The project was certified by the Energy Commission on May 18, 2011, and was authorized to commence construction on July 26, 2011. The facility was designed to tie into the regional electrical grid at Pacific Gas and Electric Company's (PG&E's) Contra Costa Substation in Antioch.

Construction of OGS commenced on June 10, 2011. Initial construction completed at the project site include installation of a small concrete foundation for the emergency diesel generator, clearing and grading of the power block area, creation of bio-swales around the power block perimeter, installation of a construction power pole, and creation of a storm water detention basin. The construction fill materials removed from the power block area was transferred to temporary storage piles (stockpiles) within the Chemours (formerly DuPont, the holder of the fee simple interest) property. By agreement with Chemours, the remaining soil stockpile would have been transferred to Chemours for use in the remediation work at the former DuPont industrial property as well as other redevelopment activities. The project construction was suspended in September 2011, after which no additional site- or project-related features were constructed.
