Reduce carbon emissions now

As a concerned citizen, I urge you to reduce carbon emissions now, for the not so distant future of our planet. In this regard, I believe we should create a state wide public works project where every existing and new building in California be fitted with solar panels connected to localized grids. I can't believe we have not already started this process.

All buildings, including office, school, church and residential should be solarized. Localized grids would reduce the threat of terrorism and problems with power outages.

We must stop polluting our planet before we destroy it.
