NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER WORKSHOP ON SCOPE OF LOAD MANAGEMENT RULEMAKING

The California Energy Commission (CEC) will conduct a workshop to receive public input on the scope of the 2020 Load Management Standards Proceeding. A quorum of commissioners may attend, but no votes will be taken.

JANUARY 14, 2020 10:00 a.m.

Warren-Alquist State Energy Building 1516 Ninth Street 1st Floor, Art Rosenfeld Hearing Room Sacramento, California 95814 (Wheelchair Accessible)

Remote access is available by computer or phone via WebEx.™ (Instructions below.)

Agenda

The workshop will include presentations and panel discussions on load management strategies and experience. A public comment period will be provided. A more detailed agenda and schedule will be released prior to the workshop.

Background

In Senate Bill 100 (De León, Chapter 312, Statutes of 2018), the State of California committed to a 100-percent carbon-free electricity supply. The CEC is taking the lead on planning the realization of this goal.

The move to a carbon-free electricity supply over the next 25 years is expected to require a rapid expansion of renewable energy supplies on the grid, which will fundamentally alter and exacerbate the challenge of balancing electric supply and demand in real time. Recent legislation, including Assembly Bill 3232 (Friedman, Chapter 373, Statutes of 2018) and Senate Bill 49 (Skinner, Chapter 697, Statutes of 2019), have called on the CEC to investigate the potential for demand flexibility to confront this impending grid challenge. In response, the CEC will revisit strategies for the control of daily and seasonal peak loads, and to consider amendments to the existing load management regulations.

The original load management standards, codified in Title 20 sections 1621-1625 of the California Code of Regulations, were developed in the early 1980s in reaction to the oil crisis. Since that time, technologies and markets have evolved dramatically, and an update to these standards is warranted. The purpose of this workshop is to receive input and ideas regarding these potential updates.

The CEC plans to collaborate with the public, stakeholders, and sister agencies throughout this rulemaking proceeding. The CEC recognizes the importance of ongoing activities at the California Independent System Operator, California Public Utilities Commission, and utilities, and will coordinate and consult with these entities.

Public Comment

The CEC is interested in hearing the views of all parties and the public on the feasibility, impacts, and costs associated with demand flexibility options.

Oral comments. The CEC will accept oral comments during the workshop. Comments may be limited to 3 minutes per speaker and one speaker per organization. Any comments will become part of the public record for this proceeding.
