Heavy-Duty Infrastructure

Under the "Target Use - Cases", the candidate use-cases currently under consideration do not specifically list heavy-duty transportation trucks/equipment as a consideration. This may be implied, but it is not specifically called out. The City of Pico Rivera has a significant amount of truck traffic within its service territory due to its heavy industrial/commercial zones and its location within a major transportation corridor. We also have several heavy-duty retailers within our borders that would be inclined to sell more electric vehicles. Can heavy-duty transport vehicles and equipment be added to the list of use-cases?
