The document is posted on the CEC IEPR Web Page at https://www.energy.ca.gov/2019_energypolicy/.

To assist parties in their review, two versions of the report are available:

- 2) The second incorporates the changes without showing them in underline/strikeout.

Background

Public Resources Code Section 25301 requires the CEC to prepare an IEPR every two years that includes assessments and forecasts of all aspects of energy industry supply, production, transportation, delivery and distribution, demand, and price. The CEC uses these assessments and forecasts to develop energy policies that conserve resources, protect the environment, ensure energy reliability, enhance the state's economy, and protect public health and safety.

The CEC prepares updates to these assessments and associated policy recommendations in alternate years.

Senate Bill 1389 (Bowen and Sher, Chapter 568, Statutes of 2002) directs state government entities to use the information and analyses contained in the adopted IEPR to carry out energy-related duties and responsibilities. During this IEPR proceeding, the CEC has coordinated closely with other agencies to ensure consistency in the underlying information used to develop this report.

The IEPR lead commissioner issued the scoping order for the 2019 IEPR on March 20, 2019. The CEC held 25 public workshops between January 2019 and December 2019 on a variety of topics in the scoping order including:

- Advancing zero-emission vehicles
- Advancing energy efficiency and greenhouse gas reductions in California's buildings
- Ensuring that low-income and disadvantaged communities have an opportunity to participate in and benefit from advancements in energy efficiency, renewable energy, and clean transportation
- Assessing efforts to decarbonize California's electricity system
- Working to ensure energy reliability in Southern California
- Revising California's electricity, natural gas, and transportation demand forecast
- Assessing natural gas use
- Advancing the state's efforts to adapt to climate change

All workshop documents, including agendas, background material, transcripts, presentations, and public comments, are available at the CEC IEPR Workshop Page or https://www.energy.ca.gov/2019_energypolicy/documents/index.html.
