Keep the First Deal with the Navy

The proposed offshore wind energy development northwest of Morro Bay would provide a crucial component of the CA renewable energy portfolio, generating power day and night. I support it strongly, especially in the form agreed earlier--including by the Navy--approximately 30 miles out. California should throw its weight behind Rep Carbajal's efforts to get the Navy to stick with the original plan to avoid further lengthy delays in this project. Let's get going!
