Update building codes - enforce clean energy in new buildings

California must lead. Scientists tell us we only have a few years to turn around our dependence on carbon polluting energy. Here's a good start - eliminate great swaths of fossil fuel demand by mandating clean energy use in new buildings. We need to phase out of natural gas as soon as possible - insist on electric appliances and electric heat, by eliminating gas hookups in new buildings. Don't lock us into decades more reliance on climate killing fossil fuels to protect oil industry profits. Let's not commit ourselves to pouring billions of dollars into unnecessary fracked gas infrastructure.
