NOTICE OF RECEIPT
APPLICATION FOR CERTIFICATION
GEM ENERGY STORAGE CENTER (21-AFC-02)

On December 1-2, 2021, GEM A-CAES LLC (applicant), a wholly owned subsidiary of Hydrostor, Inc., filed an Application for Certification (AFC) with the California Energy Commission (CEC) to construct and operate an advanced compressed air energy storage facility in Kern County, California. The project site is approximately one mile north-east of the community of Willow Springs and seven miles west of Rosamond. The 71-acre project site is bounded on the north by Sweetser Road and on the west by Tehachapi Willow Springs Road (90th Street West) with a physical address of 8684 Sweetser Road, Rosamond, California. Willow Springs is roughly equidistant from the town of Tehachapi to the north and the city of Lancaster to the south. Edwards Air Force Base is to the east.

Project Description

The Gem Energy Storage Center (GESC or project) would be a nominal 500-megawatt (MW), 4,000 MW-hour (MWh), advanced compressed air energy storage (A-CAES) facility capable of charging and discharging daily. GESC would compress air into a purpose-built underground cavern, using electricity from the grid, most likely off-peak, excess, or surplus electricity. The heat from the air compression process would be captured and stored in an above-ground thermal storage system. The compressed air would then be stored in the cavern under the pressure of a hydrostatic head created by an onsite, aboveground water reservoir. When electricity is needed by the grid, the compressed air would be released using the hydrostatic head pressure, re-heated using the stored thermal energy, and directed through aboveground turbine-generators to produce electricity.

GESC's major equipment would consist of five all-electric air compressor trains, five 100-MW air-driven power turbine generators, heat exchangers, thermal head storage, an underground compressed air storage cavern, an aboveground water reservoir, miscellaneous aboveground support facilities, and a 10.9-mile interconnection to the existing Southern California Edison Whirlwind Substation.

If approved, the applicant anticipates it would begin construction of GESC in the second quarter of 2023, startup and testing in the second quarter of 2028, and commercial operation in the third quarter of 2028.

A copy of the AFC as well as other project information, can be found on the CEC's webpage for this project at <https://www.energy.ca.gov/powerplant/caes/gem-energy-storage-center>

CEC Jurisdiction and AFC Process

The CEC has exclusive authority to certify, or license, all thermal power plants of 50 MW and greater and related facilities (that is, electric transmission line) proposed for construction and operation in California. The issuance of a certificate by the CEC is in lieu of any local or state permit and federal permit to the extent permitted by federal law. The CEC's facility licensing process carefully examines the public health and safety, environmental impacts, and engineering aspects of proposed power plants and all related facilities. The CEC's licensing process has been certified by the Secretary of the Natural Resources Agency as a "certified program" under the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) (Public Resources Code, sec. 21000 et. seq; Cal. Code Regs., tit. 14, § 15251(g)). As a certified program, the CEC produces several environmental and decision documents rather than an environmental impact report.

The first step in the AFC process is for the CEC to determine whether the application contains all the information required by California Code of Regulations, title 20, division 2, chapter 5, article 6, Appendix B. The CEC staff has completed its initial review of the AFC and recommended at the CEC's January 26, 2022, Business Meeting, that the AFC is incomplete, the CEC should audit the list of deficiencies identified in the executive director's recommendation (See TN 241097, <https://efiling.energy.ca.gov/CeetDocument.aspx?tn=241097&DocumentContentId=74932>), and the CEC should not accept the AFC as complete until the additional information specified in the recommendation is provided. The CEC adopted staff's recommendation and deemed the AFC incomplete. The CEC also directed the applicant to file information supporting an exemption from the CEC's Notice of Intention (NOI) process by February 9, 2022; directed staff to file a response to this information filing in the form of an executive director's recommendation by February 23, 2022; and assigned a committee (Commissioner Karen Douglas (Presiding) and Commissioner Andrew McAllister (Associate)) to oversee the GESC filing and any other proceedings arising from it. Public Resources Code section 25540.6(a) identifies which types of thermal power plants are exempted from the otherwise required 12-month NOI process and, thus, may proceed directly to the AFC process. After a review of the executive director's recommendation regarding an exemption from the NOI process, and prior to any action on the matter by the CEC, the committee may hold a hearing on the matter or issue its own recommendation.

If the CEC determines the facility qualifies for an exemption from the NOI process and once the CEC finds the AFC complete, the 12-month clock to reach a decision on the AFC as required under Public Resources Code section 25540.6 will begin. At that time, CEC staff will begin the discovery phase of the proceeding, and a detailed examination of the application will commence.

The CEC staff will prepare and publish both a Preliminary Staff Assessment (PSA) and a Final Staff Assessment (FA). After allowing for a public comment period of at least 30 days on the PSA and holding public workshops, the CEC staff will prepare and publish the FA, which will serve as the CEC staff's formal testimony in evidentiary hearings to be held by the committee. The committee will consider the testimony presented by the CEC staff, applicant, and any formal intervenors, as well as comments from interested agencies and the public, prior to publishing its proposed decision. The CEC will consider the committee's proposed decision and issue the final decision at a business meeting. The CEC will issue notices for workshops and hearings at least 10 days prior to each workshop and hearing. As part of the review process, the CEC staff works closely with local, state, and federal agencies to ensure that all laws, ordinances, regulations, and standards applicable to the proposed project are considered in the CEC's final decision.
