for Pool Controls

July 19, 2022

9:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m.

Remote Access Only

The California Energy Commission (CEC) will host a staff workshop on the draft report and proposed regulatory language for the flexible demand appliance standards for pool controls.

The workshop will be held remotely. The public can participate in the workshop consistent with the direction provided below. The CEC aims to begin promptly at the start time posted, and the end time is an estimate based upon the agenda. The workshop may end sooner or later than the posted end time depending upon extent of public comments and other factors.

Agenda

The workshop will begin with introductory remarks by the Lead Commissioner for this rulemaking, Commissioner Andrew McAllister, Ph.D., followed by a presentation from CEC staff on elements of the draft staff report and proposed regulatory language for pool controls flexible demand standards. A panel of speakers will provide input on the proposal followed by comments from the public.

A detailed meeting schedule/agenda will be posted prior to the workshop at the Flexible Demand Appliances webpage at <https://www.energy.ca.gov/proceedings/energy-commission-proceedings/flexible-demand-appliances>.

Background

On December 14, 2020, the CEC conducted a Lead Commissioner workshop on Senate Bill 49 (Skinner, Chapter 697, Statutes 2019) flexible demand appliance standards and invited comment. On September 1, 2021, the CEC released a request for information to seek proposals for standards, test procedures, labeling requirements, and other measures to improve the flexible demand of electricity of specified appliances. On September 30, 2021, the CEC released draft express regulatory language for public comment.

The CEC reviewed all information received during the workshop and submitted in writing to the CEC's docket for this rulemaking and drafted the staff report in consideration of this information. The staff report contains proposed standards for pool controls and describes the basis for such standards. The report also includes analysis of the technical feasibility, cost-effectiveness, and statewide benefits of the proposed standard per the requirements of Public Resources Code section 25402(f).
