About the Speakers

Morning Session

Dr. Sonya Christian, KCCD Chancellor

Dr. Christian, Chancellor of KCCD, strives to cultivate district-wide ownership of advancing the district's mission of providing outstanding educational programs and services that responsive to their diverse students and communities. She has worked in education for over three-decades as a faculty member, Division Chair, Associate Vice President for instruction, and a Vice President of Academic and Student Affairs, and Chief Academic Officer before being selected as KCCD's Chancellor in 2021. Sonya currently serves as Chair and Commissioner on the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges (ACCJC) as well as on numerous boards including the:

- Campaign for College Opportunity
- Greater Bakersfield Chamber of Commerce
- Homeless Shelter Board in Bakersfield
- Equity in Policy Implementation Advisory Board

Tim Rainey, Executive Director of the California Workforce Development Board

Tim was appointed as Executive Director of the California Workforce Development Board by Governor Brown in November 2011. Prior to becoming Executive Director, Tim was the Director of the Workforce and Economic Development Program, was a Policy Director for the California Workforce Association, and a consultant to the Senate Democratic Caucus of the California State Senate. Outside of his professional career, Tim is a co-found and executive committee member of the EDGE Campaign, member of the California Apollo Alliance Steering Committee, and serves on several other committees and commission related to workforce and economic development.

Betony Jones, Senior Advisor at the U.S Department of Energy (DOE)

Throughout Betony's career, she has provided political support through program design and implementation; research and strategy; policy advocacy; and technical assistance. Her goal is to bridge divides, actively resist wedge politics, and expand areas of alignment to support a more equitable economy and livable planet. Prior to becoming a Senior Advisor for the DOE, Betony founded Inclusive Economics in June 2018 and continues to serve as a Workforce and Labor Advisor for Energy Foundation.

Shrayas Jatkari, California Workforce Development Board

Throughout his life, Shrayas has been passionate about economic, social, and environmental justice and previously worked on major energy and transportation policies. Through equity, climate, and jobs (ECJ) policy, he hopes to address good jobs, environmental protection, and access to quality training and employment in a holistic way.

Liz Rozell, Bakersfield College Valley Strong Energy Institute

Liz was the former Vice President of Instruction and is the current director of the Valley Strong Energy Institute which seeks to inform the community about the future of energy in Kern County. Valley Strong Institute intends to keep residents informed about California's changing landscape of natural resources infrastructure and how it impacts people's daily lives.

Lori Pesante, Dolores Huerta Foundation

Lori is the Civic Engagement Director of the Dolores Huerta Foundation (DHF) and runs comprehensive strategic civic engagement and legislative advocacy programming that has transformed power dynamics in the Central Valley. She is also responsible for accountability programming that builds the capacity of grassroots leaders to strengthen vital democratic functions through Election Protection, anti-voter suppression, public meeting participation, and public safety consent decree monitoring.

Afternoon Session

Ashley Matthews, Fresno Workforce Investment Board and Lead Coordinator for Local High Roads Construction Careers Program

Through Ashley's position, she works to help participants achieve their career goals through vocational training and job search coaching. The Fresno Regional Workforce Development Board is a Joint Powers Authority between the City of Fresno and the County of Fresno. The board manages Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act funding, disbursed by the United States Department of Labor, to provide services that will ensure our participants find jobs and that businesses have access to a skilled workforce.

The High Road Construction Careers program was established by the California Workforce Development Board and prioritizes partnerships that link local building and construction trades councils to workforce boards, community colleges, and community-based organizations, creating structured pathways — with a standard core curriculum and critical supportive services — to state-certified apprenticeships in a variety of crafts.

Anthony Ausbie, Training Director and Lead for Kern County Electrical Joint Apprenticeship Training Committee (JATC)

Anthony has been part of the Kern County Electrical JATC since 2015 and helps individuals become union electricians.

Dave Teasdale, Executive Director, Economic and Workforce Development Programs and the 21st Century Energy Center, Kern Community College District

As Executive Director, Dave leads a number of workforce training initiatives including the 21st Century Energy Center which has been training individuals for technician roles in renewable energy and energy transmission since 2010. Dave has supported workforce development in clean transportation since 2012. He is a founding member of the San Joaquin Valley Electric Vehicle Partnership and is currently the project lead for the South San Joaquin Valley Zero Emissions Vehicle Talent Pipeline project funded by the CEC. Dave works closely with industry partners and regional workforce and economic development stakeholders to develop solutions for meeting the workforce needs presented by emerging energy and energy efficiency technologies. Dave is also a member of the Ventura County Clean / Green Workgroup.

Linda Urata, Regional Planner for Kern Council of Governments and Project Manager for EV Ready Communities Grant

Linda has acted as regional planner for the Kern Council of Governments since 2006. Kern COG is responsible for developing and updating a variety of transportation plans and for allocating the federal and state funds to implement them. They are also involved in regional issues such as air quality and act as a forum for involving the public in the planning process. Linda has worked as a coordinator with San Joaquin Valley Clean Cities Coalition for over twenty years. She also previously acted as Executive Director for Project Clean Air, Inc.
