Diablo needs to close as scheduled; the only reasonable choice

We live on the other side of the hills that are home to Diablo and have been waiting and hoping for years for it to close. We in California have the chance to lead in sustainable and affordable energy, and the chance to rid ourselves of this albatross from another century. Power failures in California come from dodgy, neglected PG&E power lines failed to maintain properly. We literally cannot afford to amend this failing and decrepit power plant, nor can we afford the risk, the very real and unthinkable risk it poses.
