See Instructions Below

The California Energy Commission (CEC) and the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) will host a joint workshop to discuss development of California's update to its Deployment Plan for the National Electric Vehicle Infrastructure (NEVI) Formula Program for 2023. According to the new guidance from the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), states must submit updated plans by August 1, 2023.

The public can participate in the remote workshop consistent with the attendance instructions below. The CEC and Caltrans aim to begin promptly at the start time posted and the end time is an estimate based on the proposed agenda. The workshop may end sooner or later than the posted end time.

Agenda

- Welcome and Introduction
- Update on the West Coast Truck Charging and Fueling Infrastructure application to the U.S. DOT's Charging and Fueling Infrastructure Notice of Funding Opportunity
- Update on California's NEVI Formula Program solicitation schedule

- Overview of the requirements for the 2023 NEVI Deployment Plan Update
- Public Comment

Background

The $1.2 trillion federal Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA) of 2021 includes $7.5 billion for electric vehicle infrastructure throughout the United States. The NEVI Formula Program allocates $5 billion in non-competitive funding to the states over 5 years. The goal is to deploy electric vehicle (EV) charging infrastructure and establish an interconnected network to facilitate data collection, access, and reliability. California's share will be approximately $384 million over 5 years. The IIJA designates state Departments of Transportation to serve as the lead agency and requires close collaboration with state-level energy departments. Caltrans and the CEC are leading the development of California's NEVI Formula Program.

California filed the first NEVI Deployment Plan to the FHWA and Joint Office for Energy and Transportation on August 1, 2022. It was approved on September 14, 2022, which allowed the CEC and Caltrans to begin developing the first of multiple solicitations to implement the Deployment Plan. The first Deployment Plan can be found here on the joint Caltrans – CEC NEVI Webpage: <https://www.energy.ca.gov/programs-and-topics/programs/national-electric-vehicle-infrastructure-program-nevi>

Federal guidance requires an updated Deployment Plan to be submitted each year to qualify states for the next round of NEVI Formula Program funding. This workshop will focus on the key elements of the 2023 Deployment Plan. The workshop also provides stakeholders an opportunity to provide comment or recommendations for the 2023 Deployment Plan Update.
