Survey for Training for Residential Energy Contractors (TREC) Grant Priorities and Criteria

The California Energy Commission (CEC) requests your input on its development of the Training for Residential Energy Contractors (TREC) Program, which is a workforce grant program funded by the federal Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). The information provided in the survey will be used to prepare the application to the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) for funding TREC grants in California.

The online survey is available and can be accessed using this QR code or on the web:

<https://forms.office.com/g/R4V2w0fK1v>

The CEC highly encourages stakeholders to complete the survey online. Responses to this survey will close on November 30, 2023.

The information provided in the survey is intended to supplement prior public input, including the Request for Information issued by CEC in August 2023, and other public outreach, for the CEC's application to DOE and for program design. The CEC will consider the responses in the design of California's statewide TREC grants, aimed at enhancing existing contractor training and certification programs, enabling more trainees to enter electrification career pathways, and spurring outreach and workforce development to accelerate residential decarbonization in California's low-income and disadvantaged communities.
