Rebates for installing electric home heating

Hi, I'm a homeowner in Albany CA. We are all set to install an electric home heating (and cooling) system, replacing our older gas heater. But we need to wait to see how we qualify for rebates. We need those rebates in order to afford the work and move forward. Our contractor has already finished its Manual J calculations, so we are ready for those rebates. We had hoped to do this project this summer (2024) but now it looks like the rebates won't be available by then. Please move quickly to approve the California process for home energy conversion rebates.
