Home Efficiency Rebates Application Status

Hello - I'm a homeowner and my gas furnace and central A/C is ready for replacement. It's my understanding that based on income, my family will not qualify for the Home Electrification and Appliance Rebates (HEAR) program, but that we may qualify for the Home Efficiency Rebates program.

Will California be participating in the Home Efficiency Rebates program? From what I see on <https://www.energy.gov/save/rebates>, California has been approved for the HEAR program but has not yet applied for the Home Efficiency Rebates program. Can you please clarify if California will be applying for this program and if so what the timeline will be? Thanks!

Cheers,
Jonathon
