AUTHORITY AND REFERENCE

The Energy Commission proposes to adopt the amendments under the authority of Public Resources Code Sections 25213, 25218(e), and 25402(a)-(c). The proposed amendments implement, interpret, and make specific Public Resources Code Sections 25402(a)-(c).

INFORMATIVE DIGEST/POLICY STATEMENT OVERVIEW

Existing law [Public Resources Code Section, 25402(c)] requires the Energy Commission to adopt regulations that prescribe minimum efficiency levels for appliances. The Energy Commission first adopted appliance regulations in 1976 and has periodically revised them since then. The current regulations include provisions for the testing of appliances to determine their efficiency, reporting of data by manufacturers to the Energy Commission, standards establishing mandatory efficiency levels, and compliance and enforcement procedures, as well as general provisions on the scope of the regulations and definitions.

In the rulemaking proceeding that is the subject of this Notice of Proposed Action (“NOPA”), the Energy Commission is proposing to amend the current efficiency standards for walk-in refrigerators and walk-in freezers, and to add data-reporting provisions for torchieres, under-cabinet fluorescent fixtures, and consumer audio and video equipment. In addition, minor corrections and updates are proposed, on federal test methods updates, state test methods for evaporative coolers, efficiency standards for ice cream freezers, and reporting provisions for water dispensers, metal halide luminaires, and mini-tank electric water heaters and other small water heaters.

FEDERAL LAW

The proposed amendments do not conflict with federal law.

With the exception of updating federal test methods to reference the 2005 edition of the Code of Federal Regulations, the proposed amendments are not mandated by federal law.

There are extensive federal regulations on appliance efficiency. (See 42 U.S.C. Section 6291 et seq.; 10 CFR Parts 430, 441.) The proposed amendments deal with appliances that are not covered by the federal regulations (with the exception of the updating of federal test methods)

STATUTORY REQUIREMENTS

California law requires that the Energy Commission's appliance efficiency standards (1) apply to appliances that use a significant amount of energy on a statewide basis, (2) be based on feasible and attainable efficiencies or feasible improved efficiencies, and (3) be cost-effective based on a reasonable use pattern (i.e., not result in added total costs to the consumer, considering both any increased costs of the efficiency improvement and the reduced utility bill costs resulting from the improved efficiency, over the design life of the appliance). [Public Resources Code Section 25402(c)(1).] An Energy Commission Staff Report, 2005 Update of Appliance Efficiency Regulations, demonstrates that the proposed amendments are consistent with these requirements.

LOCAL MANDATE

The proposed amendments will not impose a mandate on state or local agencies or districts.

ECONOMIC AND FISCAL IMPACTS

The Energy Commission has made the following initial determinations.

Fiscal Impact

Costs Requiring Reimbursement. The proposed amendments will not impose on local agencies or school districts any costs for which Government Code sections 17500 - 17630 require reimbursement.

Other Non-Discretionary Costs or Savings for Local Agencies. Local agencies that purchase appliances subject to efficiency standards sometimes have to pay increased purchase costs for those appliances. However, those costs are always recovered by reductions in natural gas and electricity bills. In this rulemaking, however, none of the proposed amendments will result in increased purchase costs.

Costs or Savings for State Agencies. State agencies that purchase appliances subject to efficiency standards sometimes have to pay increased purchase costs for those appliances. However, those costs are always recovered- by reductions in natural gas and electricity bills. In this rulemaking, however, none of the proposed amendments will result in increased purchase costs.

Cost or Savings in Federal Funding to the State. The proposed amendments will not result in any costs or savings in federal funding to the state.

Effect on Housing Costs

There will be no effect on housing costs.

Significant Statewide Adverse Economic Impact Directly Affecting Business, Including the Ability of California Businesses to Compete with Businesses in Other States

The Energy Commission has made an initial determination that there will be no significant (or insignificant) adverse economic, fiscal, or environmental impact on businesses, including small businesses, as a result of the proposed amendments.

Nevertheless, the Energy Commission invites interested persons to submit alternative proposals to lessen any adverse economic impact on business that might exist, which may include the following considerations:

- (i) The establishment of differing compliance or reporting requirements, or timetables that take into account the resources available to businesses.
- (ii) Consolidation or simplification of compliance and reporting requirements for businesses.
- (iii) The use of performance standards rather than prescriptive standards.
- (iv) Exemption or partial exemption from the regulatory requirements for businesses.

Impacts on the Creation or Elimination of Jobs within the State, the Creation of New Businesses or the Elimination of Existing Businesses, or the Expansion of Businesses in California

The proposed amendments will have no impact on the creation or elimination of jobs within the State, the creation of new businesses or the elimination of existing businesses, or the expansion of businesses in California.

Cost Impacts on Representative Person or Business

Businesses and individuals that purchase appliances subject to efficiency standards sometimes have to pay increased purchase costs for those appliances. However, those costs are always more than made up by reductions in natural gas and electricity bills. In this rulemaking, however, none of the proposed amendments will result in increased purchase costs. Therefore, the Commission is not aware of any cost impacts that a representative person or business would incur in reasonable compliance with the proposed amendments, except the costs of Business Reports discussed in the next paragraph.

Business Reports

The proposed amendments would require manufacturers of appliances to submit data about the appliances that they manufacture. In California, there are few manufacturers of the appliances that would be affected by the proposed amendments. The Energy Commission estimates that the annual reporting cost would be $360 per manufacturer. It is necessary for the health, safety, or welfare of the people of the state that the proposed amendments apply to business, for two basic reasons. First, the Legislature has required the Energy Commission to adopt efficiency standards, and the submittal of data is necessary to determine compliance with the standards. Second, the data required to be submitted will be used to increase consumer awareness, for utility efficiency programs, and for research, all of which will foster additional efficiency, which in turn will lead to economic, energy reliability, and environmental benefits.

Small Business

Like all businesses, small businesses benefit from appliance regulations. Small businesses that purchase appliances subject to efficiency standards sometimes have to pay increased purchase costs for those appliances. However, those costs are always more than made up by reductions in natural gas and electricity bills. In this rulemaking, however, none of the proposed amendments will result in increased purchase costs. Therefore, there will be no adverse effects on small business.

ALTERNATIVES

Before it adopts the proposed amendments, the Energy Commission must determine that no reasonable alternative it considered, or that has otherwise been identified and brought to its attention, would be more effective in carrying out the purpose for which the amendments are proposed or would be as effective and less burdensome to affected private persons than the proposed amendments. To date, the Energy Commission has found no alternatives to the proposed action that would be more effective, or as effective and less burdensome.
