Chris Gekas --

I'm writing today to ask you to fight against the Programmable Communicating Thermostat systems that are currently part of the proposed revisions for Title 24 building codes.

My information is based off this website, so my apologies if it is inaccurate:

http://www.americanthinker.com/2008/01/who_will_control_your_thermost.html

However, I believe that the proposed system is an unnecessary intrusion into the sanctity and privacy of our homes. I believe it is contrary to American values and should not be accepted.

Thanks very much,
Ryan Smith
