Subject: Title 24 Energy Proposal

Dear Commissioner Jackalayne Pfannenstiel,

In reference to the state-mandated standards for building energy efficiency, known as Title 24. This proposal is truly unbelievable. Allowing a state agency to control the thermostats in our houses? How about allowing new plants to be built that would actually fulfill our energy needs? Or how about finally getting serious about solar panel technology which could reduce our energy needs by over 50%, where's the real leadership on this? This is the most troubling and ridiculous thing I've read in years!
