Subject: Fwd: California Energy Commission's proposal for "smart thermostats"

>>> "Diane Shemanski" <das858@webtv.net> 1/15/2008 8:47 AM >>>

I wish to express my vehement opposition to universal control of thermostats by the CA Energy Commission. Individuals have different needs, especially young children and the elderly who need sufficient heat to meet our health needs.

I am over 74 years of age, had a heart attack last year, and suffer from asthma which puts a strain on my heart. Right now I am suffering from a sinus infection and a temperature. Lowering the heat to a "generic" subjective temperature would be devastating. What a bad, poorly thought-out idea. Please reconsider it and think it through thoroughly before you act.

Thank you. Diane Shemanski
