Jackalyne Pfannenstiel

Dear Jackalyne Pfannenstiel:

First off, if I wanted to live in a country that where the government completely controlled my life, I'd move to some of the places we're fighting against. Since that's not the case, I've pretty much enjoyed the "free to make my own decisions" state and country I was born in so let's keep it that way.....

Please stop the government intrusion into our own homes by requiring homeowners to install a thermostat that can be adjusted by government bureaucrats.

Californians already rank dead last among the 50 states in our per capita consumption of electricity. The average Californian uses about half the electricity as the average American, and less than consumers in Luxembourg, Guam, the Cayman Islands and Aruba.

Stop the expansion of the government nanny state. Oppose the government controlled thermostats in our own homes.

Sincerely,

Sarah Fernandez
