Jackalyne Pfannenstiel

Dear Jackalyne Pfannenstiel:

I want it to be known that we do not want government intrusion into our homes by requiring homeowners to install a thermostat that can be adjusted by government bureaucrats.

Californians already rank dead last among the 50 states in our per capita consumption of electricity. The average Californian uses about half the electricity as the average American, and less than consumers in Luxembourg, Guam, the Cayman Islands and Aruba.

Furthermore we do not want expansion of the government nanny state. I oppose the current proposal to control thermostats in our own homes. This is an Orwellian idea that has no place in a free society. Under our form of government the people are the sovereign and the government is the servant. This was the reason for the American Revolution and the Declaration of Independence. Let's get back to the first principles of our republic.

Sincerely,

Dietrich Buss
