Jackalyne Pfannenstiel

Dear Jackalyne Pfannenstiel:

It is outrageous that the government would violate our homes by requiring homeowners to install a thermostat that can be adjusted by government bureaucrats. It would also be ludicrous to create this agency and then say homeowners could override the control. Just more pork in politicians pockets.

Californians already rank dead last among the 50 states in our per capita consumption of electricity. The average Californian uses about half the electricity as the average American, and less than consumers in Luxembourg, Guam, the Cayman Islands and Aruba.

Stop the expansion of the big government state. Oppose the government controlled thermostats in our own homes.

Sincerely,

Sallie Nicholas
