Jackalyne Pfannenstiel

Dear Jackalyne Pfannenstiel:

Please stop the government intrusion into our own homes by requiring homeowners to install a thermostat that can be adjusted by government bureaucrats.

Americans are founded on a document that gives us unalienable rights along with the pursuit of happiness and the right to own property. This plan to have government control of something so fundamentally American, my own home, is an outrage and a move to a socialism that is against everything our founding fathers fought so hard for.

Californians already rank dead last among the 50 states in our per capita consumption of electricity. The average Californian uses about half the electricity as the average American and less than consumers in Luxembourg, Guam, the Cayman Islands and Aruba.

Sincerely,

Michael Lagasse
