Subject: Thermostats

Dear Sirs,

The idea of a utility and/or the government controlling the thermostats in private homes is ludicrous. It is plain Gestapo tactics, or 1984. I resent the state government or any utility company pulling something like this for their total failure to develop enough power and gas supplies to meet the demand of a huge growing population. Your failure does not give you the right to reach into our homes and mess with our lives like that. The way we are losing our freedoms in this state and country your proposed program would fit right in, and make us a great communist country. Thank you, but NO.
