Purpose

On May 2, 2008, the Energy Commission staff conducted a public workshop to present and solicit comments on the technical work that underlined staff's development of the first draft revisions to the HERS regulations for Phase II of the program. The purpose of the Efficiency Committee Workshop on August 14, 2008, is to provide building industry, stakeholders, and the public the opportunity to review and discuss the modifications that have been made to the previous draft revisions to the HERS regulations and the draft HERS Technical Manual for the Phase II regulatory development. Staff and the project contractor will present the two final draft documents to solicit further comments for consideration and incorporation into the proposed regulations package prior to the formal rulemaking proceeding.

Background

Public Resources Code (PRC) Section 25942 directs the Energy Commission to adopt a statewide HERS Program for residential dwellings. Phase II of the HERS Program calls for the development and adoption of regulations to put in place the following remaining elements of PRC Section 25942 necessary to extend the HERS Program to whole-house energy ratings of existing (and newly constructed) homes:

- Consistent, accurate, and uniform ratings based on a single statewide rating scale;
- Reasonable estimates of potential utility bill savings, and reliable recommendations on cost-effective measures to improve energy efficiency; and
- Labeling procedures that will meet the needs of home buyers, homeowners, renters, the real estate industry, and mortgage lenders with an interest in home energy ratings.

Phase I of the HERS Program was adopted in 1999 and established the basic operating framework of the program, including training and certification procedures for raters, quality assurance procedures, and data collecting and reporting requirements for raters who are performing field verification and diagnostic testing services for demonstrating compliance with Title 24 Building Energy Efficiency Standards. Phase II will extend Phase I of the HERS Program to include methodologies for calculating a California HERS Index and analyzing utility bills and cost-effectiveness of energy efficiency measures. Phase II will further address whole-house energy ratings and certification of individuals who would be involved in the California HERS Program, including raters, energy auditors, energy inspectors, energy analysts, and building performance contractors.
