Purpose

The purpose of the workshop is to present the draft AB 1632 Committee Report: An Assessment of California's Nuclear Power Plants, prepared in response to the AB 1632 legislation, and to solicit the public's comments on the draft report. The draft report will be available Friday, October 10 at the Energy Commission's website at:

[\[http://www.energy.ca.gov/ab1632/documents/index.html\]](http://www.energy.ca.gov/ab1632/documents/index.html).

The draft report provides findings and policy recommendations resulting from the Energy Commission's AB 1632 assessment. It is based on a consultant report prepared for the Energy Commission by an interdisciplinary study team led by MRW & Associates that is available online at the above web address. It considers the seismic vulnerabilities of the nuclear plant sites, structures and spent fuel storage facilities and the vulnerability of the plants to age-related degradation. The report also considers the impacts of a major disruption at these plants on the reliability of California's transmission grid and power supply. Finally, the report considers a number of policy areas related to California's operating nuclear power plants, including the cost, land use, and local economic impacts of nuclear waste accumulation at the plant sites; the economic and environmental tradeoffs among alternative power supply options; and potential implications of renewing the operating licenses of these plants.

Background

In 2006 the California Legislature enacted AB 1632 (Blakeslee, Chapter 722, Statutes of 2006; codified as Public Resources Code 25303), which directs the Energy Commission to assess the potential vulnerability of California's largest baseload power plants greater than 1700 megawatts to a major disruption due to a seismic event or plant aging, potential impacts of such a disruption, the costs and impacts from waste accumulating at these plants, and major issues related to the future role of these plants in the state. California's two operating nuclear power plants, Diablo Canyon and the San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station (SONGS), are the only two California plants meeting the 1700-megawatt baseload criterion. The AB 1632 assessment must be included in the California Energy Commission's 2008 Integrated Energy Policy Report Update, which is scheduled for adoption in November 2008.

Diablo Canyon and SONGS contribute a significant portion of California's electricity supply. These plants are located in seismically active zones along California's central and southern coast. In addition, they generate spent nuclear fuel, which will be stored at the plants indefinitely until the federal government develops a permanent means for nuclear waste disposal.

The Energy Commission held a public workshop on December 12, 2007, to present and receive public comments on a draft study plan for the AB 1632 assessment, which was then finalized in January 2008 (available on-line at http://www.energy.ca.gov/ab1632/documents/2008-01-30\_STUDY\_PLAN.PDF). A consultant's draft report was released on September 12 (available on-line at <http://www.energy.ca.gov/ab1632/documents>) and presented and discussed at a workshop on September 25. Comments on the draft consultant report were due October 2. Transcripts for the September 25 workshop and public comments are available online at the above address. A workshop on the Draft Committee Report will be held on Monday, October 20, 2008. The Energy Commission plans to release the Final Committee Report on October 30. The Energy Commission will consider the Final Committee Report for adoption on November 5, 2008, and include a summary of the report's findings in the 2008 Integrated Energy Policy Report Update report.
