Purpose

The purpose of this staff workshop is to provide the Energy Commission and the public with the opportunity to consider a range of perspectives on energy demand trends and resource plans. Staff is proposing to request electricity demand forecasts, demand-side management impacts, retail price information, capacity resource and energy balance accounting, bilateral agreement information, and related information from all utility distribution companies in California. These data will be used to develop the staff electricity demand forecast and provide an alternative view of future demand trends. The data also will allow the staff to assess current conditions in electric generation system infrastructure and identify major statewide trends affecting electricity supply and reliability.

Staff seeks comments, questions, and suggestions on the proposed forms and instructions. The staff-proposed set of forms and instructions for collecting data and analyses relating to electricity demand and resource plans are posted at [http://www.energy.ca.gov/2009_energy policy/index.html]. Please note that there are separate sets of forms and instructions for the demand forecast and for resource plans.

Background

To develop energy policies that conserve resources, protect the environment, ensure energy reliability, enhance the state's economy, and protect public health and safety, the Energy Commission is directed by Public Resources Code Section 25301 to regularly assess all aspects of energy demand and supply. These assessments are the foundation for analysis and policy recommendations to the Governor, Legislature, and other agencies. To carry out these assessments, "the Commission may require submission of demand forecasts, resource plans, market assessments, and related outlooks from electric and natural gas utilities, transportation fuel and technology suppliers, and other market participants." (Public Resources Code Section 25301(a).)

The Energy Commission is preparing to undertake assessments for the 2009 IEPR. The adopted demand forecast, or range of forecasts, will provide a foundation for the analysis and recommendations in the 2009 IEPR, including resource assessment and analysis of progress towards energy efficiency, demand response and renewable energy goals. Energy Commission forecasts are used in the California Public Utilities Commission procurement and resource adequacy proceedings, as well as in transmission planning studies. Energy Commission demand and supply assessments are used in the California Gas Report.
