Quick public hearing this afternoon – sheesh!

Anyway, I have a few questions:

1. Who is responsible for assuring Production Home Builders comply with this law?
2. How is the CEC reaching out to builders? Is there a link we can provide our Building Department for developers of single family homes?
3. How will CEC confirm the reports that are submitted?
4. Will the CEC require confirmation from the City of Anaheim as far as permitting, etc.?
5. How is date of interconnection defined?
 - a. Approval by Building Department, or
 - b. Completion of Net Metering Agreement, or
 - c. Simple interconnection prior to approval and startup?
 - d. Or any other definition.

That's it for now. Thanks!
