

Hello,

My purpose for this email is to simply ask that you help protect the millions of people who live and work near SONGS, even if that means shutting it down. We have close friends who work there and don't want them in immediate danger, no matter how comfortable they are being there everyday.

Residents nearby, like myself, have also become complacent with our beautiful surroundings near the ocean. We seem to have false sense of security when life is good and peaceful. That's where you come in...

I also worry about many job losses because of a shutdown, so maybe you can consider helping the intelligent engineers who have somehow kept us safe so far. Help them find a job/train in sustainable energy. We may still need their brilliance to protect Southern California.

Thank you for your time and consideration,

Natalie M.~
