David Kehl Property Manager, Blythe Realty,

Last year the property owner for the house we rent at 2255 Riviera Drive had an application for a wind energy installation and rebate program sent to me for signing. I rejected the idea and advised you and the property owner (our landlord) that the claim of energy savings was not likely realistic. We install generator systems for a living, and know a little about them. I did not want to participate in any fraudulent activity and advised you and the property owner that we wanted no part of this. Last week I was served papers from the California Energy Commission regarding pending hearings and possibly lawsuits regarding my application, and the DyoCore Inc rebate application. Someone at DyoCore, Inc submitted the application with my name on it without my consent. Please prepare to present any copies of this application to me so we can now get the CEC the backup they need to stop this company from stealing more tax dollars. A copy of the Email I sent last year, and a copy of the application will be needed first. Thank you for your cooperation.
