No Power Plant in Santee! No Power Plant in Santee! No Power Plant in Santee!

The environmental impacts of the massive proposed power plant Quail Brush Generation Project can not be realized until generations to come. Thousands of birds migrate to Santee Lakes and the real danger to their survivability can not be fully recognized.

Do we or your scientists, environmentalists, really know or understand the dangers of high-powered electromagnetic energy upon children, as well as adults and children? What about the animals, birds, and reptiles? Their sensitivity to their environment is entirely more keen than a human.

Have not unusually high numbers of cancer and birth defects been uncovered where these power plants have been put in before?

There has to come a time in the history of our world where we stop allowing corrupt people and officials to make money off of the poor ideas.

STOP THIS POWER PLANT NOW.
