Dear CEC Commissioners,

I would like to respectfully register my opposition to the proposed location for the Quail Brush Power Plant. This isn't just a bad location for such a plant, its probably one of the worst locations possible. Remember the terrible pollution of San Diego Bay in the fifties and sixties? That was a good example what happens when industry is allowed unfettered access to our natural resources. We must remember this and continue to steer our technology in such a way that is best for all who are impacted. Which begs the question: is this the best we can do? Please tell these guys to go back to the drawing board and come up with a better plan. Thank you for your attention.

Sincerely,

Adrian van Ravesteyn
