Greetings,

I am a new first-time mom of a beautiful, ten month old baby. The idea of raising my baby next to a power plant and the toxic chemicals he will be exposed if heartwrenching as a parent. Please consider the children's future and reject the Quail Brush Generation Plant (QBGP). We seek CLEAN energy alternatives such as solar power. We live in Southern California... we must utilize our solar abundance here, and not further our carbon footprint with QBGP.

Please support Administrative Law Judge Yacknin's 11/20/2012 decision rejecting SDG&E's application 1105023 for the Quail Brush, Pio Pico, and Escondido gas plants. These fossil fuel plants use inefficient polluting technology for unneeded power and do not move California toward the achievement of its sustainable clean energy goals.

Energy conservation is working. Southern California peak energy demand is static, contrary to claims by SDG&E and Cogentrix, which together seek to build a redundant plant for their own financial gain. I object to SDG&E profiting from selling the gas and the electricity, while we citizens pay for the significant and unnecessary costs of these fossil fuel plants by suffering the related health impacts and by paying increased utility rates.

I support the use of local rooftop / parking lot solar and further energy efficiency for any future needed peaking power generation. Both our sun-blessed county and our state have a special opportunity to be leaders in the movement to reduce greenhouse gases.

In asking you to reject SDG&E's application, I join my voice to that of thousands of local residents, Democrat Assembly Member Marty Block, Republican Assembly Member Brian Jones, San Diego Mayor Bob Filner, and the San Diego City Council, who oppose the Quail Brush project.

I sincerely urge you to uphold the decision of the Administrative Law Judge.

Sincerely,
Valene Peratrovich
