April 4 Webinar: Energy Security and Cost Savings with Combined Heat and Power at Hospitals

Text of Message to be Sent

Join the U.S. Department of Energy's Pacific Region Clean Energy Application Center (CEAC) and California Energy Commission for a review of why Combined Heat and Power (CHP) makes sense for hospital applications. Hear case studies illustrating real world examples of how CHP has benefited hospitals and healthcare facilities with energy efficiency, environmental stewardship, and energy resiliency. Learn about the current incentives and market forces relative to CHP. Learn how the CEAC can help you assess the suitability of CHP for your application and who you can look to for more information and next steps.
